Featured church: Edson Mennonite Church

Edson Mennonite Church is pleased to have Noel Dwarika as their part-time Interim Pastor. Noel and his wife Melanie had moved to Edson and heard that the Mennonite Church was without a pastor and needed weekly speakers. Noel has ministry education and experience and was prepared to help out.

After speaking a couple of times and becoming somewhat acquainted with the group, he felt led to send in his resume for a part-time interim position. He felt there was a need that he could fill. Noel began officially on August 1, and Conference Minister Mal Braun led an Installation Service on September 26th.

Noel is from Trinidadian background, but was born in Montreal. In his later teens he felt the need to return to an active faith in God, and as part of a step of commitment he moved to Edmonton. Here he attended Steele Heights Baptist Church, where he became actively involved. In 2002 he became a youth intern there, and eventually he held several Associate Pastor positions in other churches working with children and youth. He plays guitar, drums and other instruments.

He met and married Melanie at Steele Heights Baptist. Melanie is a physiotherapist who is presently on maternity leave after the birth of their son, Luke, in October. Luke has an older sister Adelya.

The Edson Church has appreciated his leadership, and Moderator Glen Kauffman is seen here welcoming him to their fellowship.
